Sabrina is shocked and confused after learning about her brother Tony's misfortune, but as she starts to put the pieces of the puzzle together she realizes that Angel didn't forgive her and is still out for revenge. Sabrina watches helply as those close to her lives are ruined. Her brother becomes anger and bitter and her best friend Erica becomes someone she doesn't recognize anymore, and she is so overcome with guilt.

But there is a bright spot when Sabrina gets a chance at love again, but will all the guilt she's harboring ruin her new relationship? Angel is devastated after she finds her sister's life body and discovers her daughter has been kidnapped. Angel is torn about what to do but when the police arrives she decides to lie to them in fear of for her daughter's life, but she soon learns that is a mistake and she is in over her head. When Angel finally comes cleans she feels relieved but the damage has already been done. Angel is at a lost to what to do as her life begins to spiral out of control after she experiences one misfortune after another. Angel realizes that she needs help from God, but will she finally let Him in fully? Sabrina and Angel suffer the consequences of playing the revenge game and they both learn that seeking revenge is just not worth it.
