When one part of you desperately wants to be accepted but the other part enjoys inflicting pain on others, the line between what's right and what's wrong is constantly crossed. Michelle just wants to be left alone but Missy is out for blood. With a constant mental fight on her hands, you never know what to expect. Tamia has been known for doing things that ultimately lands her in a sticky situation but what will she do when the choices that she makes fall on someone extremely close to her because she simply couldn't leave well enough alone? Candy notices that her focus is off but with the weight of the world on her shoulders, she can't seem to get it right. With the overwhelming drama stemming from her boyfriend's wife, she has an extremely hard time adjusting to being a new parent.

To make matters worse, the things that she's done in the past are finally coming back to haunt her. Will she get through this like she's gotten through everything else or will her loyalty to Rashard put her child in harm's way? After finding out that not only was his brother Bo, not truly paralyzed, Rashard found out that he wasn't truly taken either. In fact, Bo was the one who orchestrated the kidnapping of Armad, but what Rashard couldn't figure out, was why? He decides to make his sole mission finding Armad and killing everyone involved but will he get himself killed in the process? Armani is faced with a difficult decision and the fact that she naturally wants to live, makes her decision even harder when a blast from the past shows up making life as she knows it, a living hell.

She's quickly forced to choose who will live out of Tamia and Armad. "A life for a life." the mystery man says.

Who will she choose?
