I need hardly tell you the essential thing about a football i.e. nobody need tell me to get rid of it. I do not want it in the first place. What is the use of having a soaking wet piece of leather pushed at you? Give me a haddock every time, at least you can eat it. Poor Nigel Molesworth is back at St Custard's, being snarled at by Grimes and forced to endure the good old footer season. But despite the distractions of hideous Molesworth 2 and weedy Fotherington-Tomas, he will still share all his secrets to passing exams and being a grown up. But what's this? A resolution to be good? And to love girls? Is this the end of the Nigel Molesworth known and loved by millions - or will he be bored by teatime?
