For David, growing up on the mean streets of Philadelphia is no easy feat. Born in a crack infested neighborhood destroyed his family. His father, Clyde, is a dead beat crack addict who constantly abuses his mother Angela, a devout Christian. His younger brother John seemed to escape the wrath of Clyde, however, when a tragic turn of events lands his idol and mentor David in jail, he's consumed by the streets. Lita, who grew up in the same neighborhood is considered a tomboy and has no attraction to boys, until she meets David. One day she witnessed his heroics and becomes strangely attracted to David, who seems to shun her advances. But before she can capture his heart, David goes to jail. Lita is torn, but plans to do whatever to possess him as she awaits his release from prison. When David comes home will he be able to save his family? Or will it be too late? Will he finally give in to Lita's advances? Or will he continue to flee her? Watch and see as this riveting page turner keeps your eyes lusting for more...
