A crime-thriller comedy about love, loyalty, revenge and murder “No problem, Jack. Ven I am finished, he will be hard bastard just like his papa”–Zenka When London crime boss, Jack Murray, saves Zenka’s life she vows to become his guardian angel - whether he likes it or not. Happily, she now has access to shotguns, pistols and knuckledusters.

But Jack doesn’t need her to go around murdering his enemies. He needs her to toughen up his son, Nicholas, a mild-mannered community nurse whose patients call him an “angel”. Zenka takes charge. Using her feminine wiles and gangland contacts she aims to bring out the gorilla in Nicholas. Her tactics are unusual, and illegal, and events soon spiral dangerously out of control.
