Sofie is a singer, baker and a serious planner.

When she finds her rocker boyfriend up against the wall in a vocal booth with a back-up singer, her five-year plan for a home and family is dubbed over like a bad music track. A faded mansion in Upstate New York is the perfect place to figure out her next move. Will she keep singing or follow her dream of opening her own bakery? Sofie's hoping the fresh air, peace and quiet at Wynter Estate will help her choose. Fresh air: definitely. Peace and quiet: maybe. Gray, a lusty ghost who acts like she is his long-dead fiancée invades her dreams and works her body over, night and after night. It isn't long before Sofie's plans include her beguiling lover, a ghost man with a plan of his own; be with me. Nice plan if you call that living.
