Loyalty is the name her mother gave her. It is funny to her because her mother does not know shit about loyalty. As a matter of fact, her mother is the most disloyal person she knows. Loyalty mother's ways pushed her into this world early.

Loyalty has been taken care of herself since she was fifteen years old. She ended up with a dope crib, ride, and in medical school. Not bad for the little girl who raises herself. Even though she is doing well, she is sick of stripping to make all this possible. A few months' shy of twenty-one. A year left of medical school. She is ready to quit.

Loyalty is looking for love, a great doctor, and one day becomes a mother. Will she ever have a normal life? Will the girls hate on her in the club sabotage her dreams? Is the unknown man the love of her life? I know what you are thinking. I need to read this book. You are correct!
