This is a heartwarming trilogy that tells of a girl's devotion to find the right homes for three horses. Three separate stories of three horses are linked together in a unique trilogy. While the setting is shared, each title highlights one horse's story. Josie Grace has grown up with three beloved horses -- Faith, Hope, and Charity -- at her mother's riding school. But when the stables are forced to close, the family must find the animals new homes. While Josie is devastated at first, her personal mission to match Faith, Hope, and Charity with the perfect owners allows her to form a new, special bond with her favorite mares. Charity is a young and lively pony, and plenty of people offer her a home. Then Josie discovers that Charity is missing from the stable -- someone has stolen her! Josie will do whatever it takes to get her horse back.
