Will Lord Windmere (Matthew Fremont), who has been running from parson's mousetrap, win, or lose and pay £1500 to his friends? Matthew Fremont has accepted an invitation to a house party as he is seriously considering looking for a wife and starting his nursery as his parents have requested of him. He discovers on his arrival that Lady Jane Thornton—his longtime friend from a neighboring estate to his parents' home—is also in attendance. Since he has not seen her for two years, he is pleasantly surprised to find that she is all grown up, and he is more than happy with the result. Lady Jane Anne Thornton is also pleased at seeing her friend, Matt.

Occasionally allowed to tag along with him and her older brother, Robbie, Janie has long held a tendre for Matt. And it's not just because she saw him and her brother swimming at the hidden falls.

Will their friendship turn into love? Will they be able to overcome the obstacle of a rival for Matt's affections? And will Janie even survive the house party?
