A Calico Jack Walker / Tina Tamiko L.A.P.D. novel . . . It's 1977 and veteran L.A.P.

D. cop Calico Jack Walker and his rookie partner, Tina Tamiko, are planning to make Calico's last shift on the job something special – but plans, as they do, come apart because Walker and Tamiko are good cops no matter what the cost . . . even if they're L.A. cops, in uniform, in their patrol car, on duty, and way out of their jurisdiction on the Las Vegas Strip. When a major crime is going down, good cops never hesitate. AUGUST 2012: E-FILE PROFESSIONALLY REFORMATTED AND RELOADED ... PRAISE FOR HOT PURSUIT: "The closest equivalent to Joe Wambaugh yet . . . Hot Pursuit could hardly be better." — The Los Angeles Times "A full-throttle reading experience that sweeps you aboard with its opening sentences, speed shifts into high gear, and doesn't give you a chance to catch your breath until you've reached The End . . . the most exciting caper you're likely to find in print this year." — Wayne Dundee, Editor, Hardboiled ABOUT THE AUTHOR A thirty-five year veteran of the Los Angeles Police Department, Paul has twice been honored as Detective of the Year. Aside from his numerous novels, he has written scripts for episodic television and feature films. As a nationally recognized interrogator, he appears regularly on the hit ABC reality series Take The Money And Run. He categorically denies ever making an on-duty run such as the one described in this novel and will continue to do so until the statute of limitations has expired . . .
