Sixteen year old Mitchie Oaken is the Alpha's daughter of the Sun Pack.

She is the best lead singer/guitarist and piano player around, and is eagerly waiting for her time to be able to shift into a Werewolf like her siblings. But a new pack, the Tornado Clan, have arrived to create havoc and start up carnage between all Packs in the Supernatural Community. Their aim? To be the most powerful Pack in the world and overthrow the Sun Pack of that title. To make sure this does not occur, the Sun Pack must unite with a past enemy – the Moon Pack – to maintain the power and authority that is rightfully theirs and end the strife and terror the Tornado Clan create in their wake. With betrayal, pain and grief arising from the woodwork as the Packs unite...not to mention a tale of hesitant romance...will Mitchie like this new agreement? Especially when it will lead her life down a whole different direction than she had ever planned for herself?
