Wikileaks, gay marriage, and the perils of cleaning the fridge...

it's just another day at "Doc and Raider", one of the world's longest running LGBT comic strips. Follow the adventures of these two Canadian gay boys trapped in a world definitely not of their own design, as they tapdance around the cultural, political, and societal minefields of White Parties, Gay Evolution, and Proper Canadian MMA. In this, the first collection of the online version, everything from illegal aliens to the potential perils of three-ways gets tossed in the mix for your reading pleasure.
