When Shalonda meets Mac, she quickly finds a place in his heart. Together, they share a wonderful two-year relationship. But, all of that is destroyed once Shalonda discovers his cheating ways. The betrayal sends her into an uncontrollable frenzy. Experiencing these uncharted feelings force Shalonda to cast revenge in a harsh manner. Although it is satisfying, Shalonda's heart is still crushed. This is when she finds herself lost... Sometimes in life you fall in love only to be hurt. While some people vow to never love again, others pray to be able to recapture that feeling... In Shalonda's case, it places her somewhere in the middle. Leaving her open to 'possibilities'. Once her world is shattered, who is there to pick her up? No one other than her festive cousin Randy. He helps her snap back to reality and pushes her to pursue her dreams. While hanging out with Randy, Shalonda's path crosses Kevin's who just happens to be the biggest hustler on the south side of Phoenix. The two are attracted to each other from day one. Within weeks, Kevin is able to fill the void in Shalonda's heart, opening it up all over again. Now, trust is an issue. Is it warranted or is Shalonda chasing ghosts? Find out when truths begin to appear at the strangest times. Not only will Shalonda's strength be tested, but Kevin's as well. Just pray that the outcome doesn't devastate them both...
