A century ago, the highest witch made a deal with the head vampire so her coven could settle on their property. When time came up to pay the vampires, she did all she could not to pay them back. Little did she know the vampires had kept their end of the deal and took their strongest witch and turned her into one of them.

One century later, Briar learns the man she has always loved has done everything he could to get her back and rid the vampirism that runs through her. When Porter learns about the legend of the Unity spell, he does everything he can to obtain everything he needs to complete the spell, but Porter and Briar soon learn that others are after the legend as well.

With the help from family and friends Porter and Briar do what they can to find the pieces before they fall into the wrong hands.
